Brad Wall to Rub Shoulders with World Leaders at Bilderberg Conference
cbc.ca - Saskatchewan Premier Brad Wall is heading to a high-powered meeting of world government and business leaders that is known for its tight secrecy.

Wall is set to attend the Bilderberg conference starting Thursday in Hertfordshire, England.

The conference's website says it was founded in 1954 to foster dialogue between Europe and North America. The site describes it as a forum for informal, off-the-record discussions about global issues.

Wall said Monday his trip will give him a chance to tell Saskatchewan's story to major players.

“We’re going take every chance we can to tell the world about what’s going on in Saskatchewan and what we have to offer and this is a pretty good opportunity to do that,” he said.

“Saskatchewan increasingly is playing a role in the world, especially from an economic standpoint,” Wall added.

“When you have 45 per cent or so of the world’s potash reserves, a world... that increasingly needs to grow more food, where emerging economies like China and India have a growing middle class and want higher protein intensities in their diet, we have the fertilizer and the food.

“And of course from an energy standpoint, we’re an international player when it comes to uranium. We’re an international player increasingly around clean coal, which is a big issue in many countries in Europe.”

The Bilderberg website says key topics for this year’s conference include job growth, cyber warfare and politics within the European Union.

Kissinger to attend

Other guests at the invitation-only conference include Nobel Peace Prize winner and former U.S. secretary of state Henry Kissinger. Wall said he wants to chat with Kissinger about relationships with China because Saskatchewan has a growing interest in trade in that region.

“He’s written a recent best-selling book on it — on this whole question of China — and so I think there’s some pretty good questions that Saskatchewan can ask of Dr. Kissinger,” Wall said.

No details to be divulged

Wall acknowledged he won’t be able to discuss specific details from the meeting. But the premier said that’s why the Saskatchewan Party is paying for the trip — not taxpayers.

“A lot of these economic forums operate the same way. They want participants to be able to speak freely,” he said. He added if taxpayers were footing the travel bill, it would not be appropriate for him to limit his report on what was said.

“I think there’s some blue-skying that goes on, some big picture conceptualizing ... and so the report back has to be in a general sense.”

The True Rules Of Golf - Part 1 of 4

• The game of golf is 90% mental and 10% mental.
• If you want to get better at golf, go back and take it up at a much earlier age.
• Since bad shots come in groups of three, a fourth bad shot is actually the beginning of the next group of three.
• When you look up and cause an awful shot, you will always look down again at exactly the moment when you ought to start watching the ball if you ever want to see it again.
• Any change works for a maximum of three holes and a minimum of not at all.
• No matter how bad you are playing, it is always possible to play worse.
• Never keep more than 300 separate thoughts in your mind during your swing.
• When your shot has to carry over a water hazard, you can either hit one more club or two more balls.

ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)
Today you might see new uses or applications for something you already own. If you discover new ways of earning money, wait until Friday to be sure they are solid.
TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)
Things will tend to go your way today because the Moon is in your sign. Think about how you can transform your public image for the better — because you can.
GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)
Your search will go well today, especially if you trust your hunches. Today more easily favors intuition instead of analysis. (It happens.)
CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)
A conversation with a female companion could be confidential and revealing today. Don’t let anything change your goals, however.
LEO
( July 23 to Aug. 22)
You will be in the limelight briefly today, perhaps because of your association with someone powerful. Refrain from making important decisions; you’re just along for the ride.
VIRGO
(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)
Be careful. Right now you’re focused on shared property, taxes, debt and anything you own jointly with others. Do not make decisions about these matters until Friday.
LIBRA
(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
Well-read and capable, you might want to modify or change travel plans today or something related to higher education and publishing. Just study the facts and delay decisions until Friday.
SCORPIO
(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
You will have to go more than halfway in dealing with others today, because the Moon is opposite your sign. That’s just how it works. Be cooperative.
SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
Look for ways to improve your health today, because they certainly exist. You also might think about reforms and improvements where you work. (Wait till Friday to mention them.)
CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)
This can be a creative, inventive day for you because you see new ways of doing things. Trust your resourcefulness. You might see a better approach to dealing with children today as well.
AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)
Discussions with a female relative will be powerful today. (Or you might encounter someone powerful.) Just listen to what is said. Get all your information, but delay important decisions until Friday.
PISCES
(Feb. 19 to March 20)
You will be convincing in all your conversations with others today. This is a strong day for those of you who want to persuade or influence others to go along with your thinking.

You BORN TODAY You are quick-witted, energetic and feisty. At times, you are wrapped up in your own world and can appear flaky. In fact, you are frequently misunderstood. As you mature, you have a strong urge to make things right, especially with family. Good news! Your year ahead might be one of the most powerful years of your life.

Dream big!

WATER CONSERVATION TIPS

OUTDOORS:
- Collect rainwater for watering the garden by using a rain barrel or rain harvesting system (see rain barrel construction instructions).
- Water roots rather than leaves using a drip irrigation system or by hand.
- Don’t water plants if rain is expected in the forecast. Giving plants too much water creates shallow roots that are more susceptible to drought.
- Avoid watering on windy/hot days as much of the water is lost to evaporation.
- Adding a few inches of mulch to your gardens keeps your plants’ roots cool and moist. Organic mulches (i.e. grass clippings) also release nutrients back into the soil.
- When mowing the lawn, use a higher setting on your lawn mower as longer blades of grass shade the soil and reduce stress on the plant.
- If you own a pool, be sure to use a pool cover when it’s not in use. This will cut down on evaporation losses, and will keep it cleaner and warmer. Check equipment such as filtration systems and water inlets on a regular basis for signs of leaks.
- Practice ‘grasscycling’. Rather than throwing away your lawn’s grass clippings, leave them on your lawn as mulch. This will save time, money and water!
- A lawn can be dormant (brown) for weeks with minimal to no watering. It is part of the grass’s natural cycle.
- Check hoses/taps for leaks frequently.
- Using a broom to sweep sidewalks/driveways instead of using the hose saves about 200L of water...each time!
- During the summer, about half of all treated water is sprayed onto lawns and gardens.
- A tap leaking one drop of water per second wastes more than 25 L of water a day! That’s 9,000 L a year!
- Landscape using native or drought-resistant plants and design gardens to minimize water use.
- Watering twice a week for less than an hour should be more than enough. Most plants will thrive with far less water than we currently use.
- Get sprinklers with regulators to prevent inefficient misting.
- If you do sprinkle your lawn, be sure to do it in the early morning or evening to reduce evaporation by up to 75%.

The European Commission have just announced an agreement whereby English will be the official language of the EU rather than German, which was the other possibility.

As part of the negotiations, Her Majesty’s Government conceded that English spelling had some room for improvement and has accepted a 5 year-phase in plan that would be known as “EuroEnglish”.

In the first year, “s” will replace the soft “c”. Certainly, this will make the civil servants jump with joy. The hard “c” will be dropped in favor of the “k”. This should clean up confusion and keyboards can have 1 less letter.

There will be growing public enthusiasm in the second year, when the troublesome “ph” will be replaced with the “f”. This will make words like “photograf” 20% shorter.

In the third year, public akception of the new spelling can be expected to reach the stage where more complications are possible. Governments will encourage the removal of double letters, which have always irritated changes are possible.
