A young man asked an old rich man how he made his money.

The old guy fingered his expensive wool vest and said, "Well, son, it was 1932. The depth of the Great Depression. I was down to my last nickel."

"I invested that nickel in an apple. I spent the entire day polishing the apple and, at the end of the day, I sold the apple for ten cents."

"The next morning, I invested those ten cents in two apples. I spent the entire day polishing them and sold them at 5:00 pm for 20 cents. I continued this system for a month, by the end of which I'd accumulated a fortune of $9.80."

"Then my wife's father died and left us two million dollars."

- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 10 ounces semisweet chocolate chips
- 1 pound confectioners' chocolate

Mix cream cheese, brown sugar, and vanilla extract together in a bowl until smooth; add flour and mix until incorporated. Sprinkle salt over dough and fold in chocolate chips. Form dough into 1- to 2-inch balls and arrange on a baking sheet. Freeze until set, about 30 minutes.

Melt confectioners' chocolate in the top of a double boiler over simmering water, stirring frequently and scraping down the sides with a rubber spatula to avoid scorching. Dip cookie balls into chocolate and place on a sheet of aluminum foil or waxed paper until hardened, at least 20 minutes.

THIS DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY
- FEB 15TH 1965: FIRST OFFICIAL
CANADIAN MAPLE LEAF FLAG RAISED

For nearly a century Canada had no distinctive national flag. Each time Canadians suggested a new symbol to replace the Canadian Red Ensign, modelled after a British naval flag, there was controversy. Maple leaves, beavers, crosses, crowns — propositions that went nowhere. In 1964 Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said he'd introduce a new national flag. But Opposition leader John Diefenbaker and the Royal Canadian Legion wanted to stick with the Red Ensign. Everyone had an opinion before Canada finally chose the red and white flag with the maple leaf.

On Feb. 15, 1965, for the first time in the country's 98-year history, Canadians raise an official national flag. At noon on Parliament Hill, RCMP constable Joseph Secours, 26, lowers the Red Ensign and hoists the new Maple Leaf atop the Peace Tower in Ottawa. Canadians across the country and abroad do the same. In many of the official ceremonies, members of the Canadian Army and Royal Canadian Navy have the honour of raising the new flag.

- The federal government suggests Canadians use official flag etiquette, including a list of proper terminology:
- The halyard is the rope that raises and lowers the flag.
- The fly is the half side farthest from the halyard.
- The hoist is the closest half.
- The upper half of the hoist, called the canton, is the area of highest honour.
- A finial is a decorative ornament, such as a crown, at the top of the flagpole.
- Officially, a flag flies at half-mast to show respect for someone who has died. Canadian government flag etiquette states that half-mast rather than half-staff is the correct terminology. American government etiquette states the opposite.
- The official name of the Canadian flag is the National Flag of Canada.

For Tuesday, Feb. 17, 2015

ARIES
(March 21 to April 19)

A female acquaintance will surprise you today. Alternatively, you might meet someone who is a real character — someone unusual and different. Cool!

TAURUS
(April 20 to May 20)

News from an authority figure might surprise you today. This person might know something personal about your private life. Whatever happens, keep your cool.

GEMINI
(May 21 to June 20)

A sudden opportunity to travel somewhere might fall into your lap today. Conversely, a planned trip might be cancelled. In other words, travel plans are up in the air!

CANCER
(June 21 to July 22)

Something related to shared property, inheritances or debt might catch you off guard today. Be prepared. Make friends with your bank account. Know what is happening.

LEO
(July 23 to Aug. 22)

A close friend or partner might surprise you today with unexpected news or demands that the relationship change in some way. Give yourself time to absorb what is said and think things over. Guard against knee-jerk reactions.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Your work routine will be interrupted by computer crashes, canceled meetings, staff shortages or equipment breakdowns. Just cope as best you can, and grin and bear it.

LIBRA
(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

This is an accident-prone day for your children or kids you work with, which means you must be vigilant. Know where your kids are at all times. Romantic relationships are also wobbly.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

An unexpected guest might knock on your door today. You might burn the toast. You might run out of something. Small appliances might break down, or minor breakages could occur. Forewarned is forearmed.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

This is a mildly accident-prone day for your sign, so pay attention to everything you say and do. Keep your eyes open.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

Guard your money and possessions against loss or theft today, because things are a crapshoot. You might lose something, or you might find something — especially money.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

You feel independent today. You don't want anyone telling you what to do. (That's nothing new.) Stay light on your feet, so you can jump either way.

PISCES
(Feb. 19 to March 20)

It's hard to settle down and feel content today, because you have that feeling you're waiting for the other shoe to drop. Invariably, it will be ugly and in the wrong size. Oh well.

YOU BORN TODAY People can sense that you are courageous and that you have an indomitable spirit, which you invariably use to fight for the underdog. This year, something you've been involved with for about nine years will end or diminish in order to make room for something new. Take it easy, and learn to serve others. This is a good year to travel.

A teacher wanted his students to improve their spelling skills. So, he decided to have each of them come up to the front of the class and tell the class about their fathers' profession or trade and to spell such profession or trade.

The teacher called up Johnny as the first student, and Johnny said, "My father is a baker, and you spell it B-A-K-E-R. If my father was here today, he would give everyone a cookie."

"Very well," the teacher said, and called Jim to the front. Jim said, "My father is a banker and you spell it: B-A-N-K-E-R. If he was here today, he would give everyone a quarter.

"Great," said the teacher and called Tim to the front. Tim said: "My father is an electrician, and you spell it: E -E- L -K... E- L- E-K..."

Tim was having a hard time spelling, so the teacher said, "Tim, why don't you sit and think about the spelling for a few minutes. In the meantime, we'll have Peter come up and tell us about his father."

Peter said, "My father is a bookie: B-O-O-K-I-E. And if my father was here today he would bet, 9 out of 10 that Tim would not spell ELECTRICIAN."
